5. Course Grading

Assessment	%	Remarks
Attendance	10	Two unexcused absences will not be penalized. From the third absence, 1 point will be deducted. Approved absences with official documents will not be penalized up to 2 times. Three tardies will be counted as one absence.
Homework	20	There will be several homework including workbook assignments, and extra reading, writing, translation and etc. *Workbook homework (15%): Workbook homework for each chapter *Speaking Homework (5%): Record your reading/speaking and upload the audio file under the Drob-box on T-Square.
Quizzes	30	*Chapter Quizzes (20%): There will be a short quiz on each chapter. The quizzes will include vocabulary, grammar, pronunciation, translation and reading. *Vocab & Dictation quizzes (10%): You will frequently be tested for vocabulary and dictation. *From each of the quiz (one from chapter quizzes and one from vocab & dictation quizzes), your one worst test score can be dropped.
Midterm Exam	20	There will be a formal written exam which is based on learning in classes and the text. It will include a listening test. (Written midterm 85%, Listening midterm 15%)
Final Exam	20	Almost the same as mid-term exam. It will include a speaking test. (Written midterm 80%, Speaking midterm 20%)
Conversation Partner (extra credits)	2	(See 7. How to study for this course.) By submitting a Conversation partnership report from your conversation partner in the end of the semester, you can add 2 extra points to your final scores.

Grade Scale

A: 90 % ~ 100%

B: 80 % ~ 89 %

C: 70 % ~ 79 %

D: 60 % ~ 69 %

F: 59%~

Late Work Policy

- If you don't take vocab/dictation quizzes, chapter quizzes, mid-term and final exams on time, you will be given -
 - 85% of total credits if you make them up on the same day
 - 70% by the next class
 - 50% in a week
 - No make-up opportunity will be given after a week
- Late homework will be given 50% of total credits. It should be turned in by no later than one week after the due date. No late work will be accepted after one week. There is no corrections and feedback given for late work.

6. Classroom Standards

- I expect everybody to abide by the honor code.
See: <http://www.honor.gatech.edu/plugins/content/index.php?id=9>
- I expect students to attend every class (except in case of legitimate emergency) and to arrive on time. Tardiness and absenteeism are very disruptive to learning. If you are late for class and if you have to leave early more than three times (by 15 min.), it will be considered a tardy. Three tardies will be counted as one absence.
- We will treat each other with respect by listening to questions and ideas, never interrupting another person when they are speaking, and never disparaging anything another person has to say.
- I expect every student to give respect to their fellow students and the instructor by abstaining from cell phone use (including texting), iPod use, and any disruptive behavior. I consider taking calls and texting during class utter rudeness.
- For laptop/notebook users, I expect that you do not surf the internet, work on homework, or otherwise doodle on your computer during class, other than taking notes. I think this is rude and disrespectful to me and your fellow students.
- You are the very person to take care of all of scores including attendance scores. All scores will be uploaded under Post'Em on T-Square in a week. You should check your scores at least once a week and have to report if there is any discrepancy.
- PLEASE DON'T ASK or EMAIL ME TO RAISE YOUR FINAL GRADES. If you do it, you will get 0 out of 5 for 'Class Participation and Attitude'. If you need good final grades to keep scholarships or to avoid academic warning/probation, you should manage all of your scores during the whole semester.
- In keeping with the principles of the Honor Code, students are expected to be honest in all of their academic work. Academic honesty means, most fundamentally, that any work you present as your own must in fact be your own work and not that of another. Violations of this principle may result in a failing grade in the course and additional disciplinary action by the university.

7. How to Study for This Course

- Review the material to be covered in class the night before and go over the examples in the book. Think about how the grammar points are similar or different from other ones that you have learned already. Try to understand the parts of the grammar and how they are used in other contexts. Look for common characters that appear in more than one vocabulary word, look for connections in their meanings as ways to remember more words. Come to class ready to ask about these possible connections.
- Listen to the lesson conversations. All of chapters in the main textbook and workbook have identical sets of audio files on T-Square. The following study procedure will return maximum benefits:
 1. Listen to the target passage without first referring to the book.
 2. Listen again, following along in the book.
 3. Repeat aloud each recorded sentence in turn without referring to the book.
 4. Listen to the passage again without referring to the book, making sure you understand completely.
- Listen actively during class for new words and phrases, write them down, ask what they mean and try to implement them into your own speech.
- Get a conversation partner and practice speaking with him/her for at least 1 hour a week. You can find native Korean conversation partners in your dormitory, in the Georgia Tech Language Institute, or from your class mates.
